

Lesson 37 (1 Samuel 16:1-13): One...Two...Three...Not it?

Okay, so, take a minute today and jot some notes down on these two names. Write down whatever you know about them or recall about them, as we'll be seeing these names come up over the next several weeks.

David _____

Abigail _____

Read Jeremiah 17:9-10. Who searches the heart of man? Why? Why can we not trust our own hearts?

Read Romans 8:26-30. Who intercedes for us? Where does the Holy Spirit dwell? Who knows our hearts? How does knowing that God knows our hearts and has given us His Spirit to intercede for us encourage you?

Read 1 Corinthians 1:18-31. Who does God choose to use to show His glory? Why does this passage tell us He does this?

Knowing that God alone knows the hearts of men, what does that tell you about the hearts of those who are wise, according to the world?

Nothing is impossible for God. He can use the most prideful person to do His will, or He could use the most lowly for His glory and for His purpose. Examine yourself today. Are you acting for your own glory, or for His? Is your motive to have the praise of men for your good works, or is your goal to hear your Father tell you "Well done, good and faithful servant"?
